From the mountains to the sea, Russell and Rivers swept all before them, Governor Talmadge and Senator Charles D. Redwine carrying only a handful of counties, some of which they may lose when the official returns are available.

With President Roosevelt and the New Deal the clear-cut issue, Georgia joined the ranks of her sister southern states in letting the nation know that today she stands even stronger for the President than she stood in 1932, when the state gave him a record-breaking majority.

Talmadge Won't Concede.

Governor Talmadge declined to concede the election in the face of a mounting Russell majority. He said he would have something to say today.

A tabulation, shortly before midnight and with only nine Nomination; Ramspeck counties missing, showed that Senator Russell had amassed a popular vote of 145,317 to 75,523 for Talmadge. Russell had 334 unit votes and Talmadge 62 unit votes.

This count included complete returns from only a portion of the counties reporting. Indications were that a record vote of about 350,000 was cast. So heavy was the balloting that it was almost impossible to get detailed reports on even the major races. But from all over Georgia the trend was the same. Roosevelt, Russell, Rivers and all Russell and Rivers had approximate other anti-Talmadge candidates were winning in a sweep.

IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Fifth District Representative Holds Commanding Lead Over Rivals.

Robert Ramspeck, Decatur attorney and congressman from the fifth Georgia district, yesterday appeared to have won renomination for a third term on a New Deal platform on the face of unofficial returns compiled by The Constitution.

Although all precincts in Fulton, DeKalb and Rockdale counties had not reported, it was conceded his lead is so commanding that neither of his opponents has a chance of overcom-

He was opposed by W. P. (Pete)
Middlebrooks, attorney, and George
West, building supply dealer, both of Fulton county.

Senator's Re-election Marks New Achievement in Long Record of Political Service to Barrow

Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., hutdled one of the biggest tests in his political career when he defeated Governor Talmadge yesterday. Always a great vote-getter, Senator Russell showed himself to be one of the greatest the state has had in several decades by piling up a handsome majority over Talmadge, who in previous battles had shown himself also to be popular with the voters.

He defeated four primary rivals in 1930 to become the youngest governor in the history of the state. Earlier he had served several terms in the state legislature and was speaker of the house at the 1929 session.

TT doesn't matter what your brand of politics may be-$10,000.00 will be distributed among the winners of the "American" Party Contest. The first prize alone is $2,500.00—think of that!

And the judges' motto is: ALL ENTRIES ARE CREATED FREE AND EQUAL. You don't even have to be a member of the "American" Party to get a prize.

What is the great "American" Party? They're motorists who pledge loyalty to those two famous "American" products-Amoco-Gas and Orange American Gas.

Now even though politics has nothing to do with the "American" Party, the Contest will. In part it will be based on the November election. You'll be asked to write a political style slogan and to answer some questions about the forthcoming November election. The details, rules of contest, full list of prizes, etc., are all contained in the official entry blank.

So here's what you do All entries must be made on an official entry blank. These blanks may be obtained free (you don't have to buy anything) from any American Oil Company dealer or station.

YOUNG BRIDE FOUND BOUND, DROWNED

Husband of 3 Months Held For Questioning in Birmingham Tragedy.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 9 .- (A) The body of a pretty bride of three months, Mrs. Annie Mae Adkins, was found today in a lake near Birmingham, carefully bound with chicken net wire and weighted with rocks.

Authorities said tonight they were uestioning her husband and Connie aughn, 24. The investigators said Mrs. Adkins had been a key witness against Vaughn several months ago when the young man was convicted on an auto-mobile theft charge. They said Vaughn had been given a new trial. Before the trial, the officers said, Mrs. Adkins, then Annie Mae Swafford, had been placed under a court order preventing her from leaving the court's jurisdiction as a witness, aft-er authorities were told she had been warned against testifying.

The investigators said they were told

The investigators said they were told Vaughn was seen with her late Saturday night.

Mrs. Adkins was missing Sunday.

The body, with the skull crushed, was discovered by a man passing the lake. It came to the surface despite the

Six Chicks Hatched

From Rooster Eggs

BLACKSBURG, Va., Sept. 9.—

4P)—Six little chicks have hatched from eggs produced by E. E. Harrison's rooster, which quit bossing its new Kent county barnyard and started laying eggs.

State Poultryman Harry Moore, of Virginia Tech, supervised the setting of the eggs under a hen. The chicks, he said, are smaller than normal and white with yellow streaks.

The "sherooster" has been under observation at poultry laboratories

Plan Formulated To 'Cure' Relief Drunk Cases.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Sept. 9. (P)-Annoyed with men welfare recipients who "are d-unk most of the time and bring eight or ten kids into the world for other people to support." Mayor Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis would set them to work in a near-by silver mine.

"I sought to get hard-boiled about these men who hang around half drunk week in and week out," Newburyport's red-haired mayor told the city council less night.

There ought to be a law made. They ought not to have the right to come into city hall and get money to go out and get drunk. They ought to be made to work in a penitentiary and support the eight or ten kids they bring into the world for other people to support."

Well, we - THE LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE RAILROAD—are also sending children to school ... thousands of them in the states which we serve. We pay over $4,000,000 in taxes annually, and a large part of this money goes for the support of public schools and state universities. This great sum helps to modernize your school buildings, provide better equipment, employ more teachers. And for this reason, over 40,000 Marys and Jimmys, who might otherwise be deprived, now have the benefit of modern school facilities.

and Jimmy to school today?

But, as a tax-paying home-owner, the school isn't the only thing in which your interest and our interest is much the same. We, like you, maintain a home . . . a "Home Sweet Home on Rails" for thousands of travelers every day. And to provide comfort and convenience for these guests of ours, we buy food and furniture, employ help, make repairs, fix the electric lights, wash the dishesjust as you do.

In many other ways we're just neighbors, citizens alike of this community, helping to support it, facing the same problems, striving for the same ends. Running trains and hauling freight and passengers is an important part of our job. But equally important is our responsibility to the communities we serve ... to be good neighbors in all that the word implies!

Your good will toward us, as a railroad, will help to assure the fair treatment that makes a railroad a valuable and helpful neighbor.

Balloting yesterday marked one of the heaviest records in the history of Atlanta and Fulton county, the polls being thronged from early morning until closing time at 7 p. m. by men and women alike. The most intense interest was manifested in the senatorial and gubernatorial races, which held the key to the political fate of Governor Talmadge and his supporters in Georgia's statehouse administration. MASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—()—A "range improvement program," permitting thousands of western ranchers to share in the $470,000,000 of benefit payments which the AAA will distribute this year under the soil conservation act, was announced today at the Department of Agriculture.

The program will apply during the four remaining months of this year. Approved by Secretary Wallace, it will be open to any producers of live-stock on privately owned or privately controlled land.

It was explained that ranchmen will be paid for range-building practices, described as regrassing lands, digging wells, developing water reservoirs and similar projects.

The method was explained by Dr. Franz M. Groedel, former director of the Kerchoff Heart Research Institute in Bad Nauheim, Germany, and now of New Yors. Groedel spent years studying the effect of the natural springs on patients there and concluded that the main factor was the presence of carbon dioxide.

He constructed an artificial bath through which carbon dioxide was pumped. The gas bubbles burst against the skin, massaging certain nerves. The stimulated nerves dilate blood vessels. Some of the gas is absorbed into the tissues and acts on the superficial capillaries (tiny vessels) causing

The author did a curious thing with his $1,000. As soon as it reached him he bought a shack on a small orange grove 90 miles down the Mississippi from New Orleans.

There, he explains to his publishers, the bogs emit great bubbles of inflammable gas, the shacks tremble when a big ship goes up the Mississippi, the fiddler crabs travel in herds across the dusty roadways. Snakes hide in the houses during flood time, he adds, and lizards hide there all the time.

Beverly Bailey Is Latest Recruit New First Lady of Georgia-Elect and Charming College-Girl Daughter Miss Mathis To Wed Mr. Holt To Join 1936-37 Debutante Ranks

By Sally Forth.

THE NAME of blond and beautiful Beverly Bailey is added to the list of charming belles who will make their formal social bow this fall with the 1936-37 Debutante Club. Partially packed to answer the roll call at Finch School in New York. Beverly's powers of resistance regarding debuting were at low ebb until yesterday. Last evening following a family conference Beverly decided to lay away schoolbooks for datebooks. Her interest in schoolbooks is now a thing

Beverly is the daughter of Mrs. A. H. Bailey and the late Mr. Bailey, and her only sister is Mrs. Baxter Maddox. Possessing a charm of manner which has made her exceptionally popular since early school days, she will hold an undisputed place among this season's debutante coterie. Her early education was reecived at Washington Seminary where she was a member of the Phi Pi Club. She served for one year as president of the days, she went to Finch School in New York. Although she has and Mrs. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall.

joyed the advantages of extensive travel in the United States

She has blond coloring with clear blue eyes and Sally Forth can easily visualize the lovely picture she will make when she is presented to society at a brilliant tea dance that her mother plans to give in her honor at the Piedmont Driving Club.

At the first of the round of social affairs which will assem-ble the debutante coterie will be Betty Arnold, of Cleveland, Ohio, who arrives soon to visit Beverly at her home on Peachtree road. Both young belles were classmates at Finch school.

MARTHA BURNETT, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burnett, has definitely decided to cast her fortunes with the lot of the debutante Martha is a tall striking brunette. and her gray-green eyes are exceptionally attractive. Though her plans for the fall are not, as yet, complete, her formal presen-tation will be in the form of a dance, the date of which will be announced later.

Martha attended Washington Seminary where she was a popular member of the Pi Pi sorority, and then entered the King-Smith Studio School in Washington, D. C., where she displayed an unusual aptitude for commercial art. When she left there recently, Martha went to New York, where she spent several weeks enjoying the social festivities in Martha enjoys swimming and dancing more than any other sports, though she is better than the average in many of them. Her winsome personality and sunny disposition have made her a favorite with members of the younger social set. So it is only natural that she should follow in the footsteps of her charming sister, Sue Burnett Davis, who was a popular member of the EXPECTANCIES.

The winning of tricks with low cards largely depends upon honors, which serve as indispensable stoppers and re-entries. It becomes therefore possible to use the rule of eight not only to measure the balance of defensive honor strength around the table but to extend it for measuring quickly, for scoring one-odd, two-odd, game, or slam, at trump and no-trump. Of the 13 tricks in the play of any hand, slam, at trump and no-trump. On the 13 tricks in the play of any hand, about eight are won with defensive honor tricks and five with lower cards. This gives us a convenient yardstick of all trick values based roughly on the ratio of 8 to 5. ghly on the ratio of 8 to 5. Illustrating the Table of Trick

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD. Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I am so anxious to be popular with young people, boys and girls, but there is one thing that holds me back: I am very quiet, due to self-consciousness. I want to say cute things like some of my girl-friends but in a crowd I am dumb. You have often suggested reading as a help to make conversation. But how can you discuss books with the boys? There are a lot of girls like me who would like to have some suggestions and I for one will take any you offer. will take any you offer.

ANXIOUS.

Answer: You can't entertain the boys with book reviews nor throw them for a loop with lectures on current trends in modern literature. But, young lady, if you will read the daily papers, the current magazines and a few novels for good measure you will find plenty of subjects that the boys are interested in and when you have something to talk about you won't be afflicted with dumbness. Maybe you won't be able to say cute things—it's a gift—but you will be able to make a noise that lets people know you are around. There is just one cure for self-consciousness: it is to find and fill up with something more interesting than yourself. If there is a better way to do it than reading. I don't rent trends in modern literature. But. ter way to do it than reading, I don't lanta.

Recently the daily papers have been filled with thrilling stories of the Olympic games, stories that deal with interesting people and their private lives as well as their athletic prowess. Every boy in the world is keen on sports, has the name of champions on his tongue's tip, knows the number of meters marked off for each race, who was set to win and who won. And so with all the other classes of games and sports that were on the calendar. Don't tell me that the girls who have kept up with this world who have kept up with this world event have been tongue-tied when they met the dates.

Watch these people who have hob-bies. They will talk you to death if you give them half a chance about birds, bees, butterflies, their collec-tions of bottles, books and what not. tions of bottles, books and what not. They are all "et up" with enthusiasm and forget themselves entirely in their passion for some particular interest. Take a cue from these people; fill up your mind and it will overflow.

Then don't forget that a good listener is as acceptable in any crowd as a good talker. But the fact that a person is quiet doesn't prove that she is hearing what the talkers are saying. As often as otherwise, she is thinking about herself, wondering how she can break into the conversation wondering. the conversation, wondering others are sizing her up.

Generally popularity is a large or-der that few can fill. Personal mag-netism, constant consideration of oth-er people, friendly manners, an un-critical attitude, a kindly tongue and -sometimes-a prominent position enter into popularity. However, any girl can be an acceptable companion to her group if she cultivates a friend-ly attitude towards others and quits coddling herself. So the suggestions to the self-conscious and tongue-tied gals is this. Think—but not about our accordance of yourselves. Listen to what is said around you. Read what other people are doing and thinking and get some ideas in your negring. ideas in your noggins.

Science has a last placed its finger on one of the principal causes of this dangerous rundows condition, and provides the way for build condition, and provides the way for building up and renewing a rich supply of red, nourishing, strength-building blood. "In most case," agree many leading scientists and health authorities, "the cause of weakness, nervousness, skinniness and poor blood may be traced directly and indirectly to MINERAL and IODINE-STARVED GLANDS. When these glands don't work properly, all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't tuned into solid flesh, husty tireless strength, wheat energy and the red blood supply that keeps you strong and well. The inevitable result is, you stay skinny, rundown, nervous, weak and ailing."

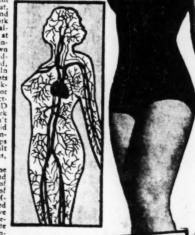

The most important gland — the one which actually controls body weight and strength, and assures the utilization of nourishment—needs a definite ration of iodine all the time—NATURAL ASSIM-ILABLE IODINE—not to be confused with chemical iodides which often prove toxic. Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine can you regulate metabolism—the body's process of converting digested food into firm fish, new strength and energy.

A starvation diet injures your health. Here is what can happen: When the body is compelled to draw heavily on its own fat and tissues for energy production, the blood becomes charged with fatty acids, and that overtaxes that hard-working organ, the liver. rather than just passable health.

In addition to the protective foods, the reducing diet should provide suf-ficient calories to cover internal functioning. A safe diet limits the calories to basal metabolism and allows the reducer to draw on stored calories for activity. The restriction is directed to the fuel foods—fats, sugars and starches—and never to the protective foods, which are protein minerals and vitamins.

Let's go about this reducing business along nature's conservative lines, to improve your health as you reduce in weight. The balanced thousand-calorie menu suggested today is to follow the fruit regime. The pointers-to-slimness will help you to estimate the number of calories you need, and the calorie chart can be used as a guide in menu planning.

All three youths were identified by C. O. Morris and J. R. Adams, operators of a Speed Oil Company station at 906 Peachtree street, as the daylight bandits who escaped after taking $105 from the cash register earlier on August 15. ALBANY, N. Y., Tuesday.—What a blessing it is not to hear the telephone ring. It often seems to me that Mrs. Scheider and I are Victor Kergos, operator of a lunch stand at 622 Hemphill avenue, identi-fied Bryant and Kirkland as the men virtually slaves to the telephone. Convenient as it may be, I can only say that three days in which I have made two telephone calls and answered calls twice, seem to have given time for endless physical and mental activity.

who held him up and escaped with $14.50 early the same night, and G. T. Brown, operator of a Standard Oil station at 740 Marietta street, pointed them out as the "customers" who stole $3 and a flashlight from the station, also that right. When I think of the times that Mrs. Scheider and I sit down to work and never get more than half way through a sentence without the telephone ringing, I can hardly express my satisfaction at spending hours on end without hearing that insistent little bell.

There was no telephone on the "Potomac" the week-end in early July that I went down from Richmond with my husband, but other things were on my mind. Saturdays I do not have to write a diary, but Sundays it must be filed and before I left, my husband, who always looks on the bright side of things, said:

"Oh, it will be quite easy to file it in Williamsburg."

I agreed that it would be, but Mrs. Scheider was not with us, and it is all of 16 years since I took a business course and learned the approved touch system on the typewriter. Never since then have I had time enough to do more than an occasional bit of typing for myself.

I put my little portable on the desk of my stateroom that Saturday night. At 11 o'clock I started in, thinking that I would at least get part of the first copy finished. All went well, for the mistakes did not make much difference as I was going to correct them afterward, but it was after 12 before I got to bed.

Knowing that we had to land at Jamestown, Va., at 10 o'clock, I got up bright and early and from 7 until 9 o'clock I labored to get a copy with few enough mistakes for the telegraph operator to read. (Moral—When you learn a thing try to use it sufficiently often not to forget it.)

We saw the ruins in Jamestown, which they are working on, and attended services at Bruton Parish church. At the end of the services everyone was very kind and polite, but we were hurrying off to Carter's Grove for lunch and I was casting around for someone to take charge of my piece and see that it was filed. As usual, the Secret Service came to the rescue and found the proper person. Really it isn't all beer and skittles when you are a seemingly care-free lady and still have something in the background which you must do. (Copyright 1936, for The Constitution.)

Bryan Grant Outlasts John Van Ryn To Gain Semi-Finals

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 9.-Well, well, folks, here we are in New Orleans with the pennant clinched and nothing to do but sit around and grin at one another.

It's been very pleasant here today in Mike O'Leary's hotel. We just sat around the lobby and looked happy and con-That's the way we felt.

The pennant was clinched at a very early hour this morn- 8 o'clock Friday night at Ponce de ing in the second game of a double-header. It was a very Leon park will formally open Atcurious game in that two home runs, each with a man on, scored lanta's annual football schedule with the Crackers' four runs.

The home runs went smack over a sign on the fence which promised the hitter two quarts of good liquor, to be used in medicinal cases only, and so help me if a couple of teetotalers didn't win them. Buster Chatham and Jim Galvin hit the home runs over the sign. Newspapermen advised them to keep the product. There is no telling when a vicious snake, concealed in the grass of the infield, might leap up and bite a player.

It is very pleasant indeed to be traveling with a pennantwinning baseball club. I saw the Crackers win the pennant here last year and witnessed the feat again last night. This long, tall Al Williams really pitched a great ball game to win. He allowed one lucky hit and that's all.

The New Orleans fans tried desperately to rattle him. Al Williams winds up with a swinging motion of his arms over his head. He repeats it two or three times. The New Orleans fans started counting them. They were there in large numbers, the fans were, some six thousand of them, and they were roaring "One, two, three" with one count for each swing of his wind-up. But I think Al Williams thought they were cheering him on because he got tougher and tougher as the game went on and finally the fans quit counting. It was all very pleasant.

THE MIDNIGHT DINNER.

The Crackers won the pennant on empty stomachs. They were quite empty. Instead of not having had dinner, as was reported yesterday on their arrival, it developed they had only

The train was late getting in and the diner had been removed. So the Crackers had to dash from the train to the field.

Winning the pennant on breakfast food is a little tough but the boys did it. And if hunger does what it did to Al Williams yesterday and to Buster Chatham and Jim Galvin, they had best starve those boys before each game.

They really ate some steaks, did the Crackers, about 1:30 o'clock this morning. And they slept late. And this afternoon we have just been sitting around, grin-

There is a night game to be played, but shucks, it is just a formality. The peanut, my friends, is in the bag.

LARRY GILBERT RECALLS.

Larry Gilbert recalls the 1925 season. What a finish that was. And what a story

The Pelicans had led the league that year all the way, just as had the Crackers, and they came to the last game of the season in Atlanta leading by a half game. Atlanta was in second place.

And they came to the last out in last inning, the Crackers had no one on and two were out.

And New Orleans was leading by one run.

Wilbur Good was at bat. He worked the count two and three and then walked.

But they caught Wilbur Good off first. He dashed for secand and the throw hit him in the back and he was safe at

And then Nick Cullop came up and smashed a home run. And New Orleans, which had led until the very last day and the very last out, had lost the pennant to who is one of the finer people, recalled that in a little talk at the impromptu reception he had in his offices "That nearly broke my heart," he said.

And it would be easy to understand. Very few baseball finishes could match that one for drama and sustained suspense.

IT OCCURS TO ME.

It occurs to me this season proves the inconsistency of the

Shaughnessy system

The Atlanta Crackers were out in front all the way. They were never even pressed.

They win the pennant, which is the important thing. Now they must play in the Shaughnessy system series to determine which team shall play in the Dixie Series.

The series are short. New Orleans might, although I do not think so, defeat the Atlanta baseball team. Atlanta finished about 17 games ahead of the Pelicans in a 154-game schedule. If New Orleans or Birmingham should win the series it would be a bit ridiculous on the It seems to be that baseball has come back along with the other businesses of the nation. And that people are going to see baseball because it is baseball, and the old split season idea and the Shaughnessy systems, which are nothing but artificial stimulants to boost attendance, may be abandoned. None of which may be important. The big idea is

Tech High in Friday's game, being on the short end of a 3-2 count in five games between the two.

Tech High after one of its most disastrous seasons in many years, is starting anew. Coach Tolbert has a fine bunch of ambitious youngsters, many of whom were on the team last year, but they are untried under fire.

He will give every candidate ample opportunity to make the varsity and those players who work the hardest will be given the preferences. No favorites will be shown this year.

Henry Bynum Hurt In Punting Drill.

The second casualty of the Tech practice season occurred yesterday when Henry Bynum, sophomore guard from Americus, Ga., suffered a sprained knee as he was blocked going under a punt.

The injury will probably keep Bynum from practice for at least ten days.

Captain Mit Fitzsimons also was injured in the punting drill. He was blocked from the side and suffered a minor knee injury.

Lawrence Hays and Harry Appleby also ploughed the B line for several short gains.

The first scrimmage was of short

FAIR ENOUGH | The Spare Tire Is Dead Weight, But It Pays for the Ride When You Need It

BY ROBERT QUILLEN. An Englishman has found a solution for the social problem that results from unemployment, and his plan can be made to work in America as well as in England.

by the various candidates.

The great crowd demonstrations being staged for Father Coughlin, the voice of God is a debatable utterance. It appears to me that an objection should be entered in the record on behalf of those who disagree.

Ominous comparisons likewise are being made between the receptions for President Roosevelt and Governor Landon along the way-stations of their travels.

Only amateurs are deeply impressed by such signs. The pros have an established theory that both crowds and applause can be misleading.

But all alike will come to regard themselves as a distinct class, and this feeling will be encouraged by more fortunate but foolish people who regard them as pariahs-an unnecessary and unwanted surplus that burdens the employed.

And since the cause of unhappiness and unrest is not man's condition so much as the way he feels about it, the Englishman proposes a scheme that would change the mental attitude of both the unemployed and the general public.

Industrial history proves that jobless men are not a labor surplus, but a labor reserve. From its beginning until the present decade, American industry has periodically found itself swamped with orders and made frantic search additional workers. Years ago, agents were sent to Europe to recruit-and trick-cheap labor. At one time an effort was made to let down the bars to Chinese.

Last time, simple negroes were enticed from the south. Surplus" men who now are jobless are industry's labor reserve Banks and corporations have cash reserves; the military organization has reserve officers. And these are not regarded as a useless surplus, but as a form of insurance against a time of emergency. Are not reserve builders as worthy of respect as reserve fighters? Then why not organize, classify and treat them as a useful asset, and thus prevent the bitterness and danger engendered by class feeling?

I remember . it must have been three or four years ago . . . Gene had a violent crush on Joan. I don't believe he has seen her since."

"Fine."

Deeds welcomed the suggestion by way of a change in the topic of conversation. Claire made him a little measy with her frank way of speaking. If Joan followed that impulse of wanting to watch the swimming lesson and came out on the beach . . well, he'd a little rather tell her about it afterwards.

For some reason, Claire had nothing to say as they strolled along the

"I see. You're modest." Claire extinguished her cigaret by twisting its burning end in the sand. She gave Deeds a sidelong glance from her dark eyes. "Modest, but not so good at... dissembling."

"Meaning what?" he demanded quickly.

"That you're not very crazy about me."

Claire's forthright statement brought an unexpected response from Deeds.

He chuckled.

"Well?" she challenged. "Was that so funny?"

"Not exactly. I was amused because you seemed to imply that I should be "crazy" about you. It seems to me that would be the height of impertinence ... under the circumstances."

She puckered her blond brows.

"Tm not just sure how I'm supposed to take that. It has all the earmarks of a dirty crack ... if you know what I mean. I happened to notice that you've been living in New York. no particular reason aside from profittaking, industrial leaders back-tracked in today's stock market for declines of fractions to around 2 points.

ber of resistant issues which man-aged to buck the trend and houd moderate net gains.

Brokers attributed the day's errate performance principally to realizing inspired by the fact the list had climbed almost to its top level of the year and traders sold on the theory that a technical correction was due.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .3 of a point at 68.9, just half of its year-rate via dayner. Transhalf of its yesterday's advance. Trans-

The devil's noose had done its work. "He may be dead already," the half-breed soliloquized; "the noose gives a terrible jerk; sometimes it breaks the neck. By the feet, too, a man can be hung. Anyway, he is unconscious. That is good-very good!"

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Paco drew nearer and surveyed his victim cheerfully. "Even if he is dead, it will be better to make sure. This fellow is good to have out of the way." Paco chuckled, ran his thumb artfully over the edge of the machete, then drew back to cleave the dangling body!

WASHINGTON. Sept. 9 .- (P)-Coal experts from many nations were Among the commoners the world is the field and one guess is as good as the field and one guess is as good as the field and tides another. King Edward, in his wide travels, has met many women who, seemigly at least, have attracted him. exhausted.

This prediction was made by three entists attached to the Bureau of SUBSIDY CHARGES Mines in a paper prepared for the Third World Power Conference and French Flyer Says Treat-The authors, George S. Rice, A. C. Fielduer and F. G. Tryon, said the increase in price involved in extraction of submarginal reserves of coal and oil "would begin to limit demand and to force utilization of the inexome queen of England.

Irene, one of the three Greek princesses, is a cousin of the Duchess of Kent and a sister of Helen, former queen of Rumania. She is 31 years old, blue-eyed, golden-haired and strikingly hansome.

Princess Katherine, 23, was educated in England. Well known to the king, she served as bridesmaid at the wedding of the Duchess of Kent.
